

These events are made possible by voluntary contributions.
A contribution of £2 will help to cover the cost of the screening.

Thank you!

A large, solid red graphic element on the right side of the page, consisting of a trapezoidal shape that tapers from left to right. It contains the text 'prem rawat on peace' in white, bold, lowercase letters.

prem
rawat
on peace

Tuesday 30th November, cinema screening at The Moving Picture Company of “The Greatest Play”

Prem Rawat makes the analogy of life as a play, which one can watch, participate in and most importantly, enjoy. He says that peace is a fundamental element for human beings, and the secret to enjoying life is to discover the peace that one already has within.

Next event in Central London:

Saturday 18th December 7.30pm to 9pm
The English Heritage Theatre, 23 Savile Row, London W1
(Theatre Entrance in New Burlington Place)
Tube: Oxford Circus, Bond Street or Piccadilly Circus

For details of other events in London area:

London Resource: www.londoninfo.org.uk
Info line: 020 8864 1512

Opportunities to listen to Prem Rawat, also known as Maharaji:

At live events around the world where he speaks in person, and also at many locations hosting satellite broadcasts. At these events Prem Rawat answers questions from the public

Video and DVD materials for home viewing:

For sale at www.tprf.info

TV broadcasts:

Sky Channel 262 - Weekdays at 10am & Saturday and Sunday at 9pm
Sky Channel 687 - Every Tuesday at 8pm (this will change to channel 262 in January 2005)

Further information:

Available at www.contactinfo.net,
or to speak to a representative 0845 767 778

To ask a question that Prem Rawat may answer in an upcoming event:

Visit www.askaquestion.tv